Free Toys For Tacoma Children

A Christmas project sponsored by the Martin Luther King Center will provide free Christmas toys and cradles to needy children in the Tacoma area. The toys and cradles are being made in the Center's Neighborhood Workshop by disabled and previously unemployed area residents. The Center provides a range of services to low-income people in Tacoma's Hilltop area.

"This project is a double Christmas present for Tacoma, " says Maureen Howard, Director of the Center. "It not only provides gifts for children, but employment for people who were beginning to lose hope."

The toys will be available to parents at the Christmas House, North 11th and J Street (PH: 272-4153). The Christmas House will be open every day but Sunday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., December 12 through the 23rd. The wooden toys provided by the Martin Luther King Center include xylophones, stilts, kitewinders, and various pull toys. Other toys are also available. Parents must have identification and proof of need.

Cradles will be donated to Pregnancy Aid, located on the second floor of the First Baptist Church at 902 Market (PH: 383-4100). Cradles will be available immediately to women in need and will be provided as long as the supply lasts. Pregnancy Aid is open Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Funding for the project is being provided through a grant from the Weyerhaeuser Company Foundations.

Warehouse Toys Owner W/Facts Rep. Dinise Griffin

Denise Griffin, Advertising Agent, for the Tacoma Facts, found one of her cartoon favorites, "The Pink Panther" and decided to pose, but store owner, Bill Smith wanted to join the scene.

The Tacoma Facts took a trip around town to see if perhaps just one "Cabbage Patch" orphan hadn't been adopted.

Needless to say there was not a one of the little dollies to be found. But don't despair! You may still get your chance to adopt after Christmas when Warehouse Toys will feature an even broader selection of dolls; among them will be the black "Cabbage Patch" dolls.

Warehouse Toys have been in existence for more than four years with two convient locations in Tacoma; University Place-on Bridgeport Way 27th West, and South 56th & Pacific.

Smith said he opened the stores with the intent of offering good prices in a broader selection of toys for all ages. He added, "the toy business is as fashionable as any.

Bishop Brooks extends a warm welcome to Evangelist Missionary Bram after a dynamic address to the congregation at Smith's Temple in Seattle on December 13. Madame Bram's speech was based on the 1st book in Genesis. She referenced man and his beginning and woman in her plight beside him. Bram stressed the choice that man made in the Garden of Eden, and stated there was no deception when Eve offered the apple to her mate. She portrayed a fresh angle in ministering to God's people.

Strikers Agree To Pay Cuts

"Welcome Back", the sign read at Greyhound Bus Depot located at 1319 Pacific Avenue.

The strikers okayed a pay cut pact after a seven week strike and are expected to resume normal work at which breeded violence throughout the state.

Harry Rosenblum, President of the Coouncil of Greyhound Local Unions, announced in Phoenix, Arizona, yesterday that 74% of the strikers voted favoring a proposed three year contract.

That is 7,404 in favor and 2,596 against the contract with the nation's largest intercity bus carrier.

The tenative pact was approved Dec. 3, in Washington,D.C. by the 31 member governing council of the union in Greyhound locals. The agreement cares for wage cuts of 7.8 percent, a 4 percent employee contribution to the pension plan and other provisions. The offer is a step up from the one rejected last month.

Lou Shane, a striking Seattle mechanic said, "the membership was put against the wall -- It was either take this or you're out of a job."

Greyhound officials in Phoenix will offer riders a "one-third off" coupon good for travel between Jan. 10th and April 1st.

HAVE YOU BELIEVED OUR REPORT
SERIES # 33
ISAIAH 53: 1 & 2

Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

For he shall grow up before him a tender plant, and as a root out of dry ground. He hath no form nor comiliness: and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

WORDS OF WISDOM

PSALMS 91:1-7

HE that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my GOd; in him will I trust.

Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

PRISONER'S CORNER

In an effort to keep our reades informed, Tacoma Facts will be publishing PRISONER"S CORNERS", A weekly article from the Prisoner's themselves However the opinions are not neccessarily those of the Publisher.

Black Coalition

The formation of the Black Prisoners Assistance Coalition has lifted the look of desolation from the faces of Black Prisoners in Walla Walla, and the look of hope now dominates their countenances. However, those enlightened prisoners who recognizes the tremendous effort it will take to influence and assure an equitable system of justice in the state of Washington are not so quick to conceive an immediate respite from the racist practices that has dubbed the state of Washington with the stigma of having the "worst criminal justice system in the United States."

Without a doubt, the enlightened prisoner knows that the success of the Coalition will depend on the willingness of the Black prison population to articulate the problems, and the more capable prisoners will be vulnerable to further arbitrary treatment by state officers desiring to suppress their participation and malign their credibility. Prisoners willing to participate may be faced with the contingency of being denied parole eligibility, work release placement, or any positive programing available to others in the prison populace. Only the most dedicated prisoners will be willing to make such sacrifices for the benefit of the whole.

The members of the Executive Council of the Black Prisoners Forum Unlimited are aware of these risks, and none have suffered so unfairly as my dear friend, Brother Bennie Washington, who as President of the B.P.F.U., began the effort which has culminated in the formationof the Coalition by expressing the need for such assistance unrelentlessly, and who zealously exposed the over racist practices exercised withinthe prison milieu.

We are expecting the first test of the Coalition's effectiveness to be the securing of justice in Brother Washington's behalf. Besides the arbitrary treatment he has received by the parole board and prison officials for daring to stand in behalf of all of the Black brothers, it was discovered that Brother Washington suffered the most basic transgression of his constitutional rights during the criminal process, including the "right to trial" according to law.

No prisoner here is more deserving of the Coalition's attention, as Brother Washington has borne the yoke of oppression valiantly, and remained steadfast in the pursuit of higher education and greater ideals. He is the only prisoner here working on a "Double Master's Degree," and was one of five students throughout the United States accepted in the "Poetry" program at Eastern Washington University.

Madam Bram

A Women's Workshop sponsored by the Women's Department for the 14th Annual Convention was in session, December 12-16, 1983 with Mother E.J. Trotter, AA/BA/MSW, workshop instructor. The Worshop Itinerary included:

Communication - I Peter 2:12, 10 & 15.
Equality - Col. 3:18-25
Responsibility - Gal. 6:5, Col. 3:25
Family Devotion - I TImothy 5:1-4,8,14,15.
Christian Devotion - Romans 12:1, Eccl. 12:13-14.

In summary Missionary Trotter expressed, "Beloved, we are the people of God, we are his family and it is very important that we look at ourselves as the family unit that we are. Living in a day of much stress, be of good courage, a family that will pray together, cry together and let the bond of love cover our many faults will be pleasing in the sight of the Lord."

Holiday Foods
Macadamia Orange Cheesecake Pie

1-1/4 cups graham cracker crumbs
1 cup sugar, divided
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
2/3 cup macadamia nuts, divided
4 packages (3 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
2 eggs, lightly beaten
1 teaspoon grated orange peel

Preheat oven to 350 F. In a small bowl combine graham cracker crumbs, 1/4 cup of the sugar and butter. With the back of a spoon, press onto bottom and sides (not on rim) of a 9-inch pie pan. Refrigerate while preparing filling. Chop 1/2 cup of the macadamia nuts; set aside.

In a medium bowl combine cream cheese, eggs, orange peel and remaining 3/4 cup sugar. Pour into prepared crust. Sprinkle with remaining macadamia nuts cut in halves. Bake until firm, about 30 minutes. Let cool completely on wire rack. Serve at room temperature. YIELD: 8 portions

Non Alcoholic Drinks

Holiday party givers should plan to offer their guests non-alcoholic as well as alcoholic beverages. For many party goers, the choice of soft drinks or punch-without-booze receipes is a welcome option. Non-alcoholic drinks offer your guests the chance to stay sober or taper down their drinking as the party goes on.

Offer non-alcoholic beverages with a dash of creativity.

Experiment with both hot and cola recipes such as: gingerale on ice with a squeeze of lime; hot spiced apple juice stirred with a cinnamon stick; frozen strawberries blender-whirled with ice and gingerale; or sherbet in tall glasses filled with a frosty soft drink (grapefruit over pineapple over raspberry, for example). Sparkling cider has all the fizz and fun of champagn --- even the "pop".

Serve food if you serve alcoholic beverages.

Food slows down the rate at which the body absorbs alcohol, thereby making it more likely your guests will have legal blood alcohol levels.

Recognize the host's role in moderating drinking.

The responsible party giver can take several steps to avoid having "smashed guests. For example, make sure guests know that non-alcoholic choices are available and give them "equal billing" when setting up the bar arrangement and offering drinks. Have the person mixing drinks go lightly on the alcohol and serve drinks in a single (rather than a double or larger) sized glass. Have a standard shot glass on hand so guests mixing their own will be less likely to unknowlingly overpour.

Schick Shadel Hospital, an alcoholism treatment facility in Seattle for nearly 50 years, has counselors on call to answer questions about problem drinking. Call 244-8100 for help.

Physical Endurance Training

The new Tacoma Center YMCA will be sponsoring physical endurance training for females interested in a career on the Tacoma Fire Department. Enrollment for the six month training program will begin on January 2, 1984.

It is the most cyclable market there is with more than 50% of the volume in December."

Although the economy has slumped in recent months, Smith said this was the worst year for toys. The demands are so high the store was unable to supply enough "cabbage patches", "baby skates", "care bears", and glo worms to name a few. He commented that it is scary to realize the impact of T.V. which determines the popularity of any given item.

Bill Smith has been in the toy business for 17 years and says "it is a fun business".

He enjoys helping people find gifts for birthdays, holidays, and special occasions.

When asked about the arcade industry and the effect on his stores, he said, "the arcades have had its day. For instance, Atari games were $129.00 last year compared to $49.00 this year, however; the portable electronic games are popular.

PSALMS 51:1-16

HAVE mercy upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions.

Wash me throughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.

For I acknowledge my transgressions: and my sin is ever before me.

Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight: that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest.

Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me.

Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts; and in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom.

Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

Make me to hear joy and gladness; that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.

Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities.

Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.

Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy holy spirit from me.

Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, and uphold me with thy free spirit.

Then will I teach transgressors thy ways; and sinners shall be converted unto thee.

Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation; and my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

O Lord, open thou may lips; and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.

For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it; thou delightest not in burnt offering.

The sacrifices of GOd are a broken spirit; a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

We welcome news of your church and civic events.

LOTTERY™

Magic Cards Drawing Dates

"The Washington State Lottery is entering a new era," said Lottery Director Robert Boyd, describing the Lottery's January 18, 1984 introduction of on-line lottery games. "On-line games are an exciting prospect not only for Lottery players, but also for the state and on-line agents, as well. Now, they will have two ways to play the Lottery--instant and one-line--and more ways than ever to win." BOyd made his comments at news conferences held in Bellingham, Seattle and Vancouver.

According to the Lottery, a survey of Washington State lottery players showed that two-thirds of the respondents will play the new on-line games without decreasing instant game player participation.

The survey also indicated that players are attracted to on-line because of the added variety of player options.

On-lines games are expected to contribute some 25 percent of the Lottery's 1984 revenue.

In other lottery states with well-established on-line games, on-line revenue accounts for at least 50 percent of lottery income--75 percent or more in eight of the 13 states with on-line.

The Lottery's first on-line game will be called "Triple Choice." When a person wants to play "Triple CHoice," he or she will tell the agent their choice of digits between 000 and 999, the amount they want to play (50 cents to $5.00 in 50 cent increments), and the play option ("Triple CHoice" has different ways to play).

The agent will then enter the transaction into the TDM where it will automatically be transitted (in code) to the central Lottery computer.

The computer will then process the transaction, and within seconds a printed ticket will be issued to the player to keep to match with the digits drawn that night. The TDM allows players to purchase tickets up to six days in advance of a drawing.

The winning digits will be randomly selected each night ona televised drawing using special industry tested drawing machines. According to Boyd, security has been the number one priority during the development of the on-line games.

"We have built in security measures at every step of the way,including computer security, ticket coding, background investigations of licensed agents, verification winners and the nightly drawings. We are committed to seeing on-line lottery games become a successful, enjoyable game for players and a dependable source of revenue for the state."

Toddlers With High Fevers

When a child suffers a seizure, parents often expect the worst and fear that there is something seriously wrong with their child. Children under the age of five, however, commonly experience seizures when they have a high fever. Although these fever or "febrile" seizures can be alarming, parents should not be overly anxious. Febrile seizures are quite common--about one child in 30 will experience at least one.

Dr. Jacqueline Farwell of the Neurology Department at Children's Orthopedic Hospital and Medical Center stresses that febrile seizures are not equivalent to epilepsy. Many children who suffer these seizures are perfectly normal.

Parents who believe that their toddler might have had a febrile seizure are encouraged to contact the Department of Neurology at COHMC.

A Season Of Hope

The arrival of the Christmas season is a welcome reminder that in a world brimming with nuclear weapons and racked by hunger, the human spirit not only survives but struggles toward fulfillment of the seasonal promise of "peace on earth and goodwill to all mankind."

It is a season of hope, and that is in short supply for many of the world's peoples. The war-torn lands of the mideast, the famine-stricken lands of Africa, and the perpetual problems of the threat of nuclear war and the continued blight of poverty, all seem to be intractable.

But such problems can be defeated by people of goodwill who practice the morality they preach.

The first step toward rekindling the warm fires of hope is to identify the problems accurately. It's not enough, for example, to assume that unilateral disarmament will make the threat of war disappear; or that poverty would decline if people would just go out and work.

It's not that simple. It will take long and serious world negotiations to get mutual reductions in arms that produce more security and less vulnerability. Both of the superpowers have to get off the escalator of the arms race before they wind up bankrupted by the expense or, worse, reduced to ashes in a nuclear Armageddon.

And poverty can't be solved by expecting people to work when jobs aren't available.

Thirty-five million Americans are poor, and almost as many are near-poor. Ten million are officially unemployed, and many more are discouraged workers -- dropouts from the labor force because of a permanent job shortage.

So it's important to define our problems in a way that is meaningful -- escaping the broad, simplistic generalizations that shed no light on the problems and even block our way to solutions.

Once we see the problems clearly, we can work for realistic solutions.

In the process, hope is reborn through activism to produce policies that bring constructive change.

What kind of policies? Well, if we are concerned about hunger, we ought to be concerned about implementing policies that create jobs for those who can work and provide the essentials of life for those who cannot.

That's a way of encouraging realistic hopes for the future, since it directly attacks the problem of poverty and makes ours a better society -- more fair and more just for all.

Behind both the defining of our problems and the crafting of solutions for them must lie the basic, fundamental essence of our humanity -- the ability and the need to care for others.

In this Christmas season, we should be examining how we as individuals and as a society demonstrate our concern for others. Caring is the trait that helps define our humanity, and a society that does not care about its people -- and people who don't care about their society or about others -- are in deep trouble.

Too often we see examples of social meanness and unconcern; of brutal attitudes toward the less fortunate and the poor, that should trouble us. For the social meanness so rampant these days is a grave weakness in our society; one that could lead to its disintegration from within.

The bonds that link each of society's members to another, whatever their differences, should be strengthened. The competition for life's rewards must not be allowed to weaken the cooperation necessary for all of us to prosper together.

As we celebrate this Christmas then, we should be mindful of the values that give it meaning, values that nations need to adopt too, values that bind us together in caring and concern.

Expressing his "strong commitment to the welfare of America's veterans," President Reagan has signed legislation expanding the health care benefits available to the nation's veterans.

The law, entitled the "VA Health Program Amendments of 1983," extends the store front Vet Center program, authorizes the provision of preventive health services for certain veterans, and calls for the establishment of an Advisory Committee on Women Veterans.

DIET FACTS & FALLACIES

DIET FACTS & FALLACIES

WHY DIET CENTER USES HEIGHT-WEIGHT TABLES.

Diet Center uses height-weight tables to determine its dieters' ideal weight. It is also the method used by most physicians and insurance companies. Mostly, it is a simple way to determine if an individual is overweight. And that's the foundation of Diet Center: accuracy and simplicity.

Lately, several types of fat-measurement scales have been brought into use. One is the skinfold test that measures the skin back of the arm. Supposedly, this gives an accurate comparison of the fat-to-muscle ratio.

The body density method can also be used. Bones and muscle accept water, while fat only accepts fat-soluble substances. Consequently, if you measure the dilution of water-soluble substances in the tissues, the approximate body consumption can be determined.

Some weight scales are based on the type of body. For example, the small, petite ballerina may only appear that way. In actuality, she may have a large bone structure that can only be observed with chest X-rays.

Call your local Diet Center for a free consultation today.

Dr. Francis told the assembled group of educators and corporate executives that the Commission's recently released "Report on a Nation at Risk" stressed the need for "all Americans -- teachers, parents, students -- everbody, to get involved to improve the quality of education nationwide."

Vernon E. Jordan, Jr. (left) and George Weissman (center), this year's recipients of the National Urban League's Equal Opportunity Awards, with John E. Jacob, President of the League. Mr. Jordan, former League President, is now a partner in the law firm of Akin, Gump, Strauss, Hauer and Feld; Mr. Weissman is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Philip Morris Incorporated. The current Chairman of the Philip Morris Executive Committee, Joseph F. Cullman 3rd, won the award in 1972. In accepting the award, Mr. Weissman endorsed affirmative action as a "foundation" for building equal opportunity, adding: "Business can get rid of affirmative action only when equality makes it obsolete."

Hooks Blasts Reagan

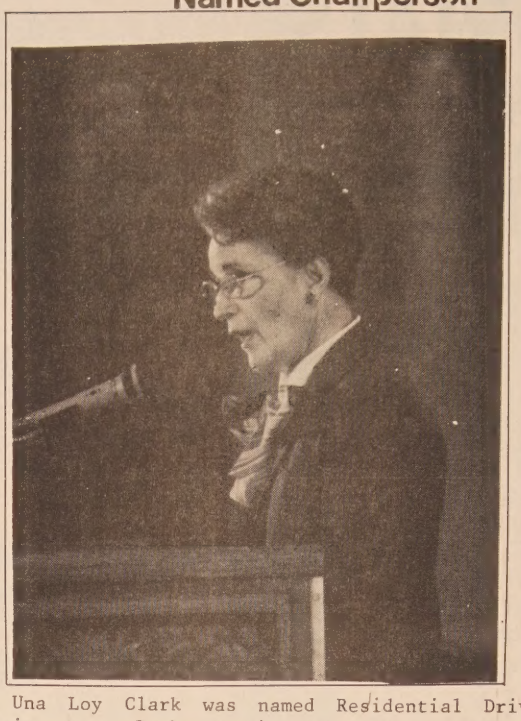
NAACP Executive Director Benjamin L. Hooks sharply criticized the Reagen Administration for its insensitivity to the nation's hungry and disadvantaged citizens. In a statement issued on Thursday, December 15, Mr. Hooks said:

"President Reagan's defense of Edwin Meese's insensitive statements on hungry Americans leads us to ask, where is the Reagan Administration's heart? Where is President Reagan's compassionate concern for the poor and disadvantaged? We had hoped that Mr. Reagan would have demonstrated some sense of outrage over the callously indifferent statement by his White House counselor, who said recently that "we've had considerable information that people go to soup kitchens because the food is free and that's easier than paying for it."

"The unconcern for the poor indicated by this and other statements about the hungry highlight a shocking coldness and cruelty on the part of the administration toward the poor. For, as most Americans know, the poor and the hungry do not go to soup kitchens out of greed but because they are unemployed and destitute.

The administration may be doing more to fee the hungry than any previous administration. But, if so, it is because there are more people who are hungry in American today than in any recent period, thanks, to Mr. Reagan's "welfare for the rich" social and economic policies."

Una Clark Named Chairperson



Una Loy Clark was named Residential Drive Chairperson of the American Heart Association's 1984 fund raising campaign in the State of Washington, according to Robin R. Johnston, M.D., President of the American Heart Association of Washington.

Mrs. Clark, widow of Dr. Barney Clark, the first person to receive a permanent artificial heart, will coordinate the 30,000 volunteers who will seek contributions in a door-to-door drive beginning February 11th in the State of Washington.

Bus & Shuttle Fare Change

Beginning January 1, Pierce Transit will increase bus fares by a dime. Peak hour fares will be 60 cents and offpeak fares will be 35 cents. Peak fares are in effect from the beginning of service each weekday morning until 9 a.m. and from 4 to 6 p.m. All other times, including weekends and holidays, are considered off-peak. Off-peak fares, for disabled persons and senior citizens who are 65 years or older, are 25 cents. The new rates, which were approved by Pierce Transit's Board of Commissioners in October include the Agency's SHUTTLE service.

Senior citizens and disabled persons must show their Pierce Transit ID Card when boarding a bus during off-peak hours to qualify for the cash discount. ID cards are available at The Bus shop, 767 Market Street in downtown Tacoma. They cost $1.

To offset the increase in bus fares for regular bus patrons, Pierce Transit's monthly pass for Commuters will be reduced to $18. Commuters who have been paying $20 for a monthly pass can purchase a new January pass now at any of 70 locations in Pierce County. The Senior or Disabled pass, for seniors 65 years or older or disabled with a Pierce Transit ID Card, is $10. The Youth pass for children who are 6 through 18 years is $15.

Monthly passes offer unlimited rides each month. They are available at all First Interstat Banks, Peoples Banks, Puget Sound National Banks, Tacoma Banks, Citizens Federal Savings and Loan and colleges in the area.

Pierce Transit also sells tokens. A roll of 40 tokens will cost $12. They are sold at The Bus Shop. Two tokens are required during peak hours and one token is required during off-peak hours.

Free transfer privileges will remain intact. In addition, Pierce Transit will continue to allow free transit service for commissioned public safety officers.

Pierce Transit's 38 bus schedules have been reprinted to show the new fare structure. New schedules, effective January 1, 1984, will be available on the buses and at transit information outlets throughout the County next week.

Toll Free Hotline

The hotline has been established for ex-POW's to inform the VA if they feel they are not being recognized as ex-POW's at VA medical centers or regional offices, or if they feel their treatment is not consistent with the intent of the Prisoners of War Health Care Benefits Act of 1981.

The 24-hour toll-free number, 800-821-8139, is available to over 93,000 ex POW's nationwide, and will be stffed by a select group of POW specialists from the Washington, D.C., regional office during regular business hours (8a.m. - 4:30 p.m. EST). After-hours and weekend callers may leave a recorded message on the hotline.

Hooks

"Because the government under the Reagan Administration has been cynical in its regard for the poor and disadvantaged, private agencies have had to increase their aid for the hungry.

"The NAACP maintains that it is the duty of the Executive Branch to demonstrate its leadership in developing this national commitment to social justice not only through half-hearted lip-service but through compassionate deeds and programs."

The Spirit of Christmas

Christmas is not a time or a season but a state of mind. To cherish peace and goodwill, to be plenteous in mercy, is to have the real spirit of Christmas — if we think on these things there will be born in us a Savior and over us all will shine a star — sending its gleam of hope to the world.

The Purple Heart

In view of the recent awards of the Purple Heart to members of our Armed Forces, the history of this award seems appropriate at this time.

On August 7, 1782, George Washington authorized the first medal to be awarded to soldiers for bravery and wounds received while fighting the enemy. It was the Purple Heart.

When the British attempted to burn our Capital, the records were stored for safe-keeping. It was not until 1932, one hundred and fifty years later, that the Declaration by George Washington was discovered.

In February, 1932, President Herbert Hoover directed General MacArther, to issue a General Order, that the Purple Heart be awarded to all members of the Armed Forces for wounds received in action against the enemy.

The Purple Heart is by far the most expensive medal issued. It implifies the beginning of recognition for our combat troops on the field of battle.

In August, 1958, Congress voted to Charter a special veterans organization: Military Order of the Purple Heart of the United States. This is the only veterans organization chartered by order of Congress.

Of the three colors in our National Flag, the red stands for the blood that has been shed in our struggle for freedom and democracy. Many brave men have received this award posthumorously.

Today, throughout our nation, are established Chapters, where veterans who have received this award have banded together to work for all veterans. It is an exclusive organization in that only those who have been awarded the Purple Heart may join.

New Law For Wheelchair-Bound

OLYMPIA--A new state law requires the licensing of wheelchair conveyances operated on highways and public roadways, according to State Licensing Director John Gonsalex. "This law is not about motorized wheelchairs," said Gonsalez, "but vehicles specifically designed for the transportation of a physically or medically impaired wheelchair-bound person. Licensing wlil offer some assurance of safety for the wheelchair-bound and the public."

Applications are available at the Metropolitan Park District Administration Building, 10 Idaho Street, or at South Park, Wright Park and Titlow Lodge recreation centers.

A $10 entry fee must accompany the application. The deadline for submitting an application is Jan. 6th. Auditions will be held Jan. 14th at the University of Puget Sound Music building from 1 to 5 p.m.

For more information contact Dorothy Leyden, 564-3521.

Veteran Forum

All veterans and survivors of veterans receiving Veterans Administration pension benefits received an Annual Income Questionnaire in November.

"I wish to remind all concerned that the card must be completed and returned to the V.A. before Jan. 1, 1984," said Randy Fisher, Department of Veterans Affairs director. "The Department of Veterans Affairs will assist anyone in completing the card, and has substitute forms for those who have lost their cards," Fisher said.

For the location of the nearest state field or contract office, veterans are encouraged to dial Toll Free 1-800-562-2308.

The Veterans Administration is reminding pensioners who have received the agency's Annual Income Questionnaire (AIQ) to be sure to return it immediately to avoid venefit interruption on January 1, 1984.

The AIQ was mailed to VA pensioners on or about November 1. If you did not receive a questionnaire, you should contact the nearest VA regional office either in person or by telephone. VA also has counselors standing by if you need help in completing the questionnaire. Veterans can call VA toll-tree; just consult your local phone directory under the U.S. Government listing. Also, any accredited veterans service organization can help you fill out the questionnaire.
